“Preach the WORD. Be in season or out of season...” (2 Timothy 4:2a) The grace and task of preaching, entrusted eminently to the Dominican Family, is perennially relevant and rich in possibilities, even and especially in the context of this global COVID19 pandemic.

The Dominican Preaching Network, a community of schools of preaching – the Aquinas Institute of Theology (USA), the Institut für PastoralHomiletik (Germany), and the Institute of Preaching (Philippines), graciously hosts this International Colloquium on Dominican Preaching, with the theme “Urbi et Orbi: Dominican Preaching to the city and to the world in the time of pandemic” this October 12-14, 2021, to be conducted virtually across several international time zones.

Integral to the Colloquium is the sharing of experiences about “Dominican Preaching in the time of Pandemic.” We hope to develop audio-visual materials, to document the courageous moments of Dominican sisters and brothers engaged in the mission of Preaching “the Word, in season and out of season.”
Given the challenges brought about by the COVID19 pandemic, the Second INTERNATIONAL COLLOQUIUM ON DOMINICAN PREACHING shall be conducted VIRTUALLY, via ZOOM, on October 12-14, 2021, premiered across different international time zones.

- USA Central (GMT-5) 8:00 a.m.
- USA Eastern (GMT-4) 9:00 a.m.
- Europe (GMT+2) 3:00 p.m.
- Philippines (GMT+8) 9:00 p.m.

The Colloquium is open FOR FREE to the members of the Dominican Family, lay associates, collaborators and partners in mission and ministry, world-wide.

The language of the Colloquium shall be English.
